"BOB," THE VARSITY MASCOT.
(Property of Otto Gramm, President of the Board of Trustees.)

BUILDINGS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING.

Greeting.

Friends, Faculty, Alumnus, Students all
We greet you, and thanks extend for favors great and small.
In launching this first annual, heroic '09 and '10
Have often asked your help, and when
You read this little book in brown and yellow clad,
We trust you'll feel repaid and truly glad
The 'Varsity is coming to its own in this and other ways.
We know that this year dawned on glorious days—
A new and stirring era in the annals of the school,
When modern ideas, higher aspirations, loyalty and progress rule.
And so we've told you of the various things we do
In class rooms and the gym, then added jokes a few
For spice, and history which all wish to remember;
We've toiled and moiled on it since last December,
But if we please you, we are well content,
And say farewell, with happy sense of time well spent.

Dedication.

To Charles Oliver Merica,

WHO, BY HIS ABILITY AND ENTHUSIASM, HAS ENLISTED
EACH ONE OF US IN THE TASK OF MAKING
WYOMING'S UNIVERSITY THE GREATEST IN THE WEST.

WHOSE EFFORT FOR US AND OUR INTERESTS HAS KNOWN
NO LIMIT OF TIME OR DIFFICULTY.

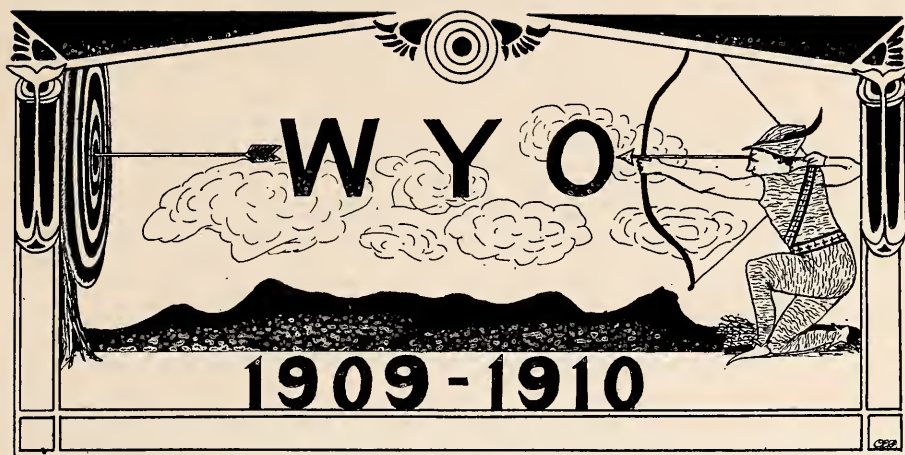

WHO HAS WORKED WITH US, SHOULDER TO SHOULDER, IN FOOTBALL AND IN LATIN, IN VACATION
AND EXAMINATION WEEK.

We dedicate this little Book of College Joy,

AND MAY IT BE THE FIRST OF MANY ISSUED UNDER HIS GUIDANCE.

CLASS IN VETERINARY SURGERY.
 Dr. Prien, Peryam, Mills, Howells, Akeson, Hill, Guild.

The football squad at the beginning of school did not look very promising; there were not many of the "old timers," but plenty of new material which was too light.

The first football game of the season was played here October 27 with Fort D. A. Russell. Although the soldiers were much heavier than the 'Varsity players, the whole game was a "walk-away" for Wyoming. From the kick-off until the whistle for the end of the second half the 'Varsity boys were skirting around ends for large gains or making forward passes and scoring so fast that the spectators hardly had a chance to stop cheering. The game closed with a score of 66-0 in favor of the University, whose line-up was as follows: Hastings, center; Guild, left guard; H. H. Price, left tackle; Hunton and Jones, left end; G. Peryam, right guard; H. Hill, left tackle; Crowley and I. I. Price, right ends; Roberts, quarterback; Akeson, left half and captain; Moir, fullback; Worthington, right half.

On Tuesday afternoon, November 3, the Preparatory football team played the Laramie high school on the University gridiron. Although the Preps. outweighed their opponents by ten pounds, they lacked form to their plays, and the high school held them to a score of 0-0 in the first half. In the second half the Preps made a touchdown by old style line plunging, but failed to kick goal. They would have scored again had they not fumbled when Davis, quarterback for high school, picked up the ball and made a long run for a touchdown. The goal was kicked, making a score of 6-5 in favor of high school.

UTAH GAME.

The day was an ideal one for football, the field dry and hard. Game called at 3 o'clock, and the line-up showed the Utah men to outweigh the Wyoming players forty-nine pounds per man. Wyoming, however, put up a plucky fight, and it was only the superior weight of the Utah team and their straight-arming interference that allowed them to score at will. Utah could not make much on line bucks but could make large gains around ends. The score at end of first half was, Utah, 47; Wyo., 0.

In the second half Utah said "that they would make the score 100-0." Wyoming took a brace and carried it to within 25 yards of Utah's line. Moir dropped back for a field goal, but missed. Utah lost ball and Wyoming carried by line bucks to Utah's forty yard line. Score at end of game, Utah, 75; Wyo., 0.

Time of halves, 30 minutes.

FORT COLLINS GAME.

Somebody once said, "Life is not in holding a good hand, but playing a poor hand well." When the University of Wyoming met the Colorado Aggies from Ft. Collins, on November 14th, our men demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that they could "play a poor hand well."

The fact that the "farmers" outweighed Wyoming by seventeen pounds to the man, and nearly all veteran players, while our men were mostly new, never once fazed the defends of the brown and yellow.

The Collins men admitted that they expected to have a snap of it and run up an enormous score. It did not take long, however, to dispell this illusion. From the beginning of the first half to the sound of the whistle at the end of the second the game was a fierce struggle. Both teams played football and they played their very best. Every yard that was gained and every point that was scored was the result of hard work.

Our team has nothing to be ashamed of, but everything to be proud of, for it takes "sand" and pluck and courage for a team as light as it to hold a team of veterans so much heavier down to a score of 20-0.

U. W. line-up was: Right end, Moir; left end, Hunton; right half, Worthington; left half, Akeson; right guard, H. Price; left guard, Guild; center, Hastings; quarterback, Roberts; right tackle, H. Hill; left tackle, J. Hill; fullback, Grey.

Time of halves, 25 minutes; referee, Farnsworth of Boulder; umpire, Lieut. Coburn; head linesman, Grant.

PREP-CHEYENNE GAME.

Game called at 3:00 o'clock. The Preps were sent out at 2:30 and were chilled through by the chilly wind. The gridiron was covered with snow. In the early part of game high school made a touch down, but failed to kick goal. The Preps got warmed up and held the high school to a score of 5-0.

BASKET BALL.

BENEDICT-VARSITY GAME.

The Varsity basket ball team is fast rounding into shape and played their first outside games with Greeley and Cheyenne January 15th and 16th.

The basket ball game in the gym, on the 9th was a very fast game and showed that the Varsity was in good shape for all comers. Although it was a bad night, there was a good crowd at the game. The team work of the Varsity was excellent. The line-ups were as follows:

Varsity		Benedicts
Hunton	Forward.....	Brown
Moir	Forward.....	Langheldt
Worthington	Guard.....	Goitschalk
Skinner, Crowley.....	Guards.....	Johnson, Jones
Price	Center.....	Fleming

The Varsity got the lead and kept it until end of game. Score, 38-12, in favor of Varsity.

GREELEY GAME.

On Friday, January 15, the Varsity team left for Greeley, Colo., to meet a picked team of that city, but, although defeated in the score, the credit of the game belonged to Wyoming.

The game started, and Hunton of the Varsity, made the first basket. We kept on making baskets until we were 3-0. The Greeley boys, seeing that they were outclassed and had no chance to win by fair means, started to rough it. Our boys being much lighter and away from home, had no chance against their heavier opponents, and we were robbed of the game by a score of 31-26. Several times Prof. Hoefer, our referee, warned Greeley "Pioneers" of their dirty playing, but they would not cease. Our boys were to play in Cheyenne the next night and were all more or less bruised up. The 'Varsity line-up was:

Price, center; Moir and Hunton, forwards; Worthington, Crowley and Skinner, guards.

CHEYENNE GAME.

The 'Varsity team left Greeley Saturday morning for Cheyenne. They met the Cheyenne Business college five in the evening. The game was free from the roughness which we experienced at Greeley, and the Cheyenne men played good clean ball. We lost the game by a score of 26-11, partly because we were outplayed and mainly because our men were in a very stiff and sore condition as a result of the Greeley game the night before. After the game we were treated royally by the C. B. C.'s and enjoyed dancing until midnight.

THE SALT LAKE GAME.

Although the 'Varsity team suffered defeat at the hands of the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. by a score of 68-18, the game was not without its merits. Our men played good ball and held our end of the score up very well considering that they played against men who wholly outclassed them. Our men were benefited, however, for they learned many new points about basketball. Salt Lake has a fine team and plays a very clean game. This team has defeated University of Nebraska, Denver Y. M. C. A., Greeley, and is also the champion team of Utah.

EATON TRIP.

On Friday, the 22d, the Prep team accompanied by Mr. LeCron, left for Ault, Colo., to play the Ault team and the Eaton high school. Both games were played in Ault armory, as poor and illy lighted a place as one could imagine for a basket ball game.

The first game was played with Eaton high school that night—29-16 in favor of Eaton. The Preps have no excuse except that they were outplayed.

The Ault game was very close, the score standing 29-27, in favor of Ault.

CHEYENNE-WYOMING GAME.

On Washington's birthday the Cheyenne Business College and Cheyenne Athletic Club sent their teams over and a big doubleheader was played that night, the college team playing the C. B. C.'s, and the Preps the C. A. C.'s.

The C. B. C.'s put up a good game but were outclassed, the score at end of game being 26-17 in favor of the 'Varsity. This is a victory that has been long sought after by the University fellows and consequently everyone was elated when they won.

CHEYENNE ATHLETIC CLUB-PREP. GAME.

The game with the C. A. C.'s was easily won by the Preps. From the beginning of the first half to the end of the second it was perfectly plain that the Cheyenne boys did not have the ghost of a show to win. That they scored at all shows up well for them, for the Prep team are mighty swift players and showed that they knew basket ball.

The line-up for the two teams:

'Varsity		Preps
Hunton	Forward.....	Jones
Crowley	Forward.....	Whitman
H. H. Price.....	Center.....	Sutphin
Worthington	Guard.....	W. W. Price
Skinner	Guard.....	U. S. Grant

BASEBALL.

The baseball team elected Edwin K. Crowley again as their captain and Lieut. Coburn as manager. The cold weather has put off practice until it is now May 17th and the team is not picked. We will have chance for about four games if weather permits. The old players in school are Akeson, H. Hill, Hunton, Swanson, and Crowley.

The History of the University of Wyoming.

The initiatory step toward the establishment of a State University in Wyoming may properly date from the Act of Congress, approved February 18, 1882, entitled "an act to grant lands to Dakota, Montana, Arizona, Idaho and Wyoming for University purposes." This act gave to the state (when a territory) seventy-two sections, or 46,080 acres of land, to be selected from the vacant Government lands within the boundaries of Wyoming. By legislative enactment, 1886, the Governor of the territory was authorized to appoint a commission of one to make and locate these selections. Surveyor F. O. Sawin was appointed at that session of the Legislature, and ultimately selected 45,291.31 acres.

The First State Legislature, 1891, assented to the terms of Acts of Congress for Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. The original Act of July 2, 1862, gave to Wyoming 90,000 acres of Government land to be for the support of our Agricultural College. These lands are now largely leased or rented to stockmen and ranchmen for grazing purposes, only a small portion being suitable for agricultural purposes until properly irrigated. This revenue is received by the University authorities biennially and used for current expenses.

The Territorial Legislative Assembly approved a bill on December 10, 1869, granting to any number of persons, not less than three, the right to associate together to "establish and maintain a college, academy, or other like institution for the education of youth." This was Wyoming's embryo step toward her State University. Higher education did not receive any further special legislation until the Ninth Territorial Legislature passed a bill, approved March 4th, 1886, which authorized formal action toward the organization of a university. The law authorized the establishment of an institution "under the name and style 'The University of Wyoming,' to be located in or near the City of Laramie"; to impart to "young men and women, on equal terms, a liberal education and thorough knowledge of the different branches of literature, the arts and sciences, with their varied applications." The government of the institution was vested in a board of seven trustees, "three of whom shall at all times be residents of the City of Laramie." Hon. Stephen W. Downey, who became in 1891 President of the Board of Trustees, was the father of this bill and most active in obtaining the passage of the bill. Under the provisions of this law the Governor of the Territory, Hon. Francis E. Warren, appointed a Building Commission, to have charge of the construction of the University building. By the summer of 1887 a portion of the building was completed and known as the Liberal Arts building. This justified the opening of the University in the fall. The entire edifice was not completed until 1890. This structure cost over $85,000.

Governor Warren also appointed a Board of Trustees, who were, and the offices to which they were elected, as follows: J. H. Finck, M. D., President; J. H. Hayford, M. D., Secretary; Edward Iverson, Treasurer; J. Y. Cowhick,

D. D.; L. D. Ricketts, Ph. D.; W. H. Holliday and M. C. Brown. The Board held its first recorded meeting in the office of Hon. M. C. Brown, August 25th, 1886, when the officers, as above indicated, were elected. The organization of the University was thus perfected. The first session of the University was in the fall of 1887. The First State Legislature passed an act, approved January 10, 1891, changing the membership of the Board of Trustees from seven to nine members, making the President of the University and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction ex-officio members. This Board held its first meeting in February, 1891, when Hon. S. W. Downey was elected President of the Board, Grace Raymond Hebard, Secretary, and Frederick E. Scrymser, Treasurer. Mr. Downey continued in this office until February, 1897, and the Secretary until June 30, 1908.

By this enactment of January 10, 1891, the annual income tax was reduced from one-fourth of a mill to that of one-eighth, an amount totally inadequate for the growing needs of an enlarging institution. This tax was raised by the Legislature of 1905 to three-eighths of a mill.

In addition to this State aid received from a mill tax and the sums derived from the rental of lands, the University receives generous additional assistance from the Federal Government.

PRESIDENTS.

The first President of the University, John W. Hoyt, M. D., LL. D., was elected to that office May 11, 1887, serving the University in that capacity until December 31, 1890. Mr. Hoyt did not assume the duties of his office as a total stranger to the interests of the institution. His efficient service to Wyoming as Governor of the Territory from April 10, 1878, to August 3, 1882, and as a member of Wyoming's Constitutional Convention, familiarized him with the needs and possibilities of the State. This experience, combined with his scholarship, made possible the broad foundational plans put into operation for the beginning of our State University.

The first Faculty under Dr. Hoyt's administration consisted of seven members, two of whom, Doctor Nelson and Professor Soule, at this date (1909) are still faithfully serving the University.

The first Faculty of the University, in 1887, consisted of the following members (names, titles and subjects taught taken from the catalog):

John W. Hoyt, President and Professor of History, the Social and Political Sciences and Lecturer on Oratory.

Wm. I. Smith, Professor of English Language and Literature and Lecturer on Rhetoric.

Miss Elizabeth Arnold (Mrs. Chas. Stone, member of the Board of Trustees 1903-1911) Instructor in German and French.

Mr. Justus F. Soule, Instructor in Greek and Latin Language and Literature and Gymnastics.

Aven Nelson, Professor of Biological Sciences and Instructor in Calisthenics.

J. D. Conley, Professor in Geology and Chemistry and Instructor in Natural Philosophy, Calligraphy and Drawing.

A. M. Sawin, Professor in Mathematics and Physics.

The Faculty for the year 1908-9 consists of forty members, including professors, their assistants and instructors.

John D. Conley, Ph. D., Professor of Geology of the University during Dr. Hoyt's administration, assumed the duties of Acting President until the election of Albinus A. Johnson, D. D., then pastor of the Cheyenne Methodist Church, March 27th, 1891. Dr. Johnson resigned in April, 1896, but served as President until June 30 of that year, when Frank Pierrepont Graves, LL. D., Professor of Greek of Tufts College, Massachusetts, assumed the duties of the office, continuing until June 30, 1898, when he resigned to accept the Presidency of the State University of Washington. Elmer E. Smiley, D. D., pastor of the First Congregational Church of Cheyenne, as Dr. Graves' successor, remained with the University until August 31, 1903, when he resigned to accept a pastorate in New York. Charles Willard Lewis, D. D., President of Moore's Hill College, Indiana, was elected President September 7, 1903. In June, 1904, he died of pneumonia at Greeley, Colorado, and was buried at Laramie on Commencement Day. On July 22, 1904, Frederick Monroe Tisdell, Ph. D., Professor of English in the Armour Institute of Technology, was elected President of the University. Dr. Tisdell retired March 28, 1908, when Professor J. D. Towar, M. S., Director of the Wyoming Experiment Station, was elected to fill the vacancy until a President was chosen. Charles Oliver Merica, LL. D., was elected President May 8th, 1908, and assumed control immediately.

No history of the University, however brief, can be written without paying willing tribute to the first President and eminent scholar, Dr. Hoyt. As soon as possible after he was elected, and especially while serving as a member of the Constitutional Convention, he planned an extensive foundation for a great University, embracing a Preparatory School, the Colleges and Professional Schools. His ideas are now being carried out, and his foundation has made the present conditions possible.

ADDITIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

Space will not permit an extended statement regarding the additions in buildings, improvements in the way of departments and general growth of the University. An outline covering these is to be found in the following:

- 1891. Establishment of Agricultural College and Experiment Station, drawing aid from the Federal Government.
- Opening of Normal School.
- 1892. School of Mines.
- School of Military Science.
- 1893. Mechanical Building, $12,000.
- 1895. School of Music.
- 1897. Wing to Mechanical Building, for Assaying Department, $2,000.
- 1899. School of Commerce.
- Twenty acres added to Campus by donation from Union Pacific Railway, and by purchase.
- 1900-02. Science Hall, $39,000.
- 1903. Central Heating Plant, $16,000.
- 1904. Gymnasium and Armory, $15,000.
- 1905. Summer School.
- 1906. Department of Primary Training.
- 1908. Woman's Hall and Dormitory, $25,000.
- 1909. Wing to Woman's Hall, $15,000.
- Barns for Experiment Farm, $8,000.
- State Preparatory Normal Building, $50,000. Contracts have been awarded for the erection of the two first of these structures.
- The Normal Building will be ready for occupancy in September, 1910.

GRACE RAYMOND HEBARD.

What Does the University Need Most?

AS SEEN BY WYOMING'S PROMINENT CITIZENS.

"I would say, in my opinion, the University of Wyoming will advance in usefulness, stability and prestige proportionately as its managing trustees, its faculty and the people of the state co-operate in working for its welfare and increase and strengthen the measure of harmony which now exists among these three forces, in the effort to build up the institution. Co-operation and harmony, in my belief, will cause growth and development which will make our University second to none in the educational field.

"F. E. WARREN."

"What the University needs most is the cordial, hearty and earnest support and co-operation of the people of the state in the highly important, useful and helpful work which it is carrying on in the field of education, investigation and research.

"F. W. MONDELL."

"Our State University is doing splendidly, and the present high standing of the institution in the eyes of the people of the state generally should emphasize the importance of a larger degree of local pride. I trust minor differences may disappear, and that the people of Laramie, irrespective of party affiliations, may co-operate loyally in the support of the institution, and avoid petty criticism of anyone connected therewith. The recent Legislature displayed a very generous feeling in authorizing appropriations for new buildings and work at the University and Agricultural College. Now, we need, above everything else, the development of a broad, liberal, conscientious spirit of local pride.

"B. B. BROOKS."

"The University of Wyoming has most excellent equipment and a splendid faculty. It is a school that merits the unquestioned support of the people of the state which is its home, and I feel that the greatest need of the University at the present time is greater loyalty and support from all quarters of the state, and that it may in fact, as well as in name, become the University of Wyoming.

"A. D. COOK."

"What does the University most need?' If I were restricted to one word, I should say 'students.' The University of Wyoming has the equipment, it has a faculty of high class instructors, it has a president who has the ability and industry: all that is lacking is an abundance of material to work on.

"W. C. DEMING."

"What does the University need most?' Constant and persistent continuance of the present well directed efforts for the upbuilding of the institution, by the president, faculty and students.

"W. E. CHAPLIN."

"What the University needs most' would be the loyal support of the citizens of Wyoming, first, by their good will, and, second, by an enlarged state fund for the maintenance of that side of the institution which is supported wholly by the state.

"T. F. BURKE."

College Songs.

Early in the year Dr. Merica announced that he would give three prizes for the best college song written for the "Wyo" by a member of the student body, explaining that he hoped in a few years to issue a University of Wyoming song book. Seven songs were handed in, and after an interesting contest, the following were chosen:

THE YELLOW AND BROWN.

EVANGELINE DOWNEY.

(Awarded First Prize.)

You may travel from ocean to ocean,
You may go from the east to the west,
And you'll find that of all Universities,
The W. U. is the best.
For we're honest and brave and true-hearted,
We smile with no cause e'er to frown,
And every student is loyal
To our colors, the Yellow and Brown.

CHORUS.

For we're loyal to them, yes, we're loyal,
No foe shall e'er pull them down,
For while we have strength in our strong right arm,
We'll fight for the Yellow and Brown.

In our school there are all sorts of students,
There's the Miner and brave Engineer;
There's the girl who wants to be Teacher,
And cause her young pupils to fear.
We've our heroes in baseball and football;
We've our Fusser, but on him don't frown,
He thinks not alone of his Sweetheart,
But loves, too, the Yellow and Brown.

Chorus.

When College at length is over,
Our place in the world we will take,
And thy maxims of right and of honor
Through life we will never forsake.
No matter what troubles beset us,
We'll smile, and we never shall frown,
Rememb'ring the well-learned lessons
Of the days of the Yellow and Brown.

Chorus.

OUR 'VARSITY.

KATHERINE TAYLOR.

(Awarded Second Prize.)

In Wyoming's sunny land,
Where her mountains proudly stand,
Where her prairies roll to westward, brown and wide.
Where her sturdy men of old
Came in search of home and gold.
There her college stands, our blessing and our pride.

In that city of the plains,
Of whose history there remains
Only that which is most noble and most true.
Worthier than all the rest
Is our college, for the best
Of all the future is concerned in what we do.

Strength and joy she can bestow,
Friendships deepening as they grow.
For all these students bring their songs of praise.
Freshmen up to cap and gown,
Loyal to the Gold and Brown,
Learn to honor and to love Wyoming's ways.

WYOMING.

LESLIE B. COOK.

(Awarded Third Prize.)

Bright Wyoming, Nature's darling,
High above her sisters lies—
Spicy sagebrush lines her cradle,
Matchless blue its arching skies.
Radiant morns inspire our efforts;
Noons which thrill bid us press on;
Snowy mountains, heaven-tinted,
Peace bestow when day is gone.

Ye who delve beside the oceans,
Ye who tread the prairies green,
Hear us sing our Alma Mater—
Free Wyoming, mountain queen!
Brown and yellow—glowing colors—
Stir our hearts where'er we dwell,
From Atlantic to Pacific
Echoes loyally the yell—
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Zip! Boom! Zee!
Let 'er go! Let 'er go!
'Varsity! WYOMING! !

Dates.

September

- 22d. Registration postponed.
- 23d. Registration. The old students fail to recognize Prof. Nelson.
- 24th. The students in Physiology I swap names.
- 25th. The Sophs. plan a stunt for assembly, but 1910 is still ahead.

- 30th. Roy Akeson, John Hill, and Frank Smith study up on "How to Choose a Wife."

October.

- 1st. A: "Have you got your physics lesson?"
B: "What do you take me for?"
A: "Didn't say I'd take you at all."
- 2d. "Well, when I saw Miss Stoner yesterday she was on the bank corner, and I haven't seen her since—may be she's there yet."
- 5th. L. B. (In typewriting): "Oh! Charlie, see this cute picture! Don't you want me to cut it out and give it to you?"
Charlie: "Yes, I wish you would 'cut it out.'"
- 6th. Prof. N.: "Who is the greatest bacteriologist you have ever heard of?"
Botany Class: "Doctor Prien."
- 7th. "Great Scott! where's Goines?"
Mary (innocently): "I don't know."
- 8th. Who was it that wanted to go to "The Devil"?
- 9th. Girls in mourning. The study parlor music box is dead.
- 12th. Mr. Monnett: "Forty-one million barrels of oil! Now what—what does that mean to you?"
E. B.: "A lot of grease."
- 13th. Did you hear about the "First Voter," girls? Well, they were Democrats, you know, and they started to go to the political meeting, but those mean Republican boys asked them to the picture show.
- 14th. E. K. (translating): "A single life is not becoming to me."
- 15th. Prof. McW. rounds up a bunch of notebooks.
- 16th. English XVI enters politics. "Shall the people rule?"
- 19th. (In German) M. K.: "He could blow his horn to be heard thirty miles. Is that really true?"
- 22d. Prof. T. (telling how to vote): "Then you go into a little room—"
Mrs. T.: "Does a man go in with me?"
- 23d. Prof. B.: "No, Mr. S., a paragon is not the sum of all the angles about a point; a paragon is a boy who always knows his geometry."
- 26th. G. C.: "But I love him! He's the light of my life."
Mother: "Yes, but we put out the lights at ten o'clock."
- 27th. The faculty give a good yell for the boys.
- 28th. "And Professor Ridgaway said: 'Oh, dear! oh, dear! oh, dear—'"
"My, but he uses strong language."
- 29th. S. S.: "Have you seen the new "Student"?"
G. A. (cautiously): "Yes, I've seen him, but I don't know his name."
- 30th. Prof. M.: "Here are some pictures of the old German gods."
Bright Student: "Oh! Were—were they taken at the time?"

- 24th. Mate Murray is introduced to Mr. LeCron as the girl who has come from Cheyenne to take Laura Breisch's place.
- 27th. J. H. writes poetry in his sleep. Wonder what's up?
- 30th. H. A.: "Oh, I dreamed that a bear chased Dean and me, and caught me and hugged me. But Dean got so wildly jealous the bear laughed and let me go."
What's the use of dreaming?

December

- 1st. L. S. is on time to all his classes.
- 2d. Distracted Calendar Editor: "Let me see—wasn't there a joke about a slide-rule?"
- 3d. Prof. K. (in Organic): "This is called levo, but is really dextro. The dextro is really levo. Now please don't get these mixed up."
- 4th. "Why, DeLoss, I thought you were sick?"
"Well, the doctor wouldn't say I couldn't go to school."
- 7th. (In Math.): "I can't eluminate that equation."
Prof. R.: "Well, I'll try to throw some light on it."
- 8th. Prof. T. tells the story about the smart baby who said absolutely nothing.
- 9th. D. H. (Rushing into advanced chem. lab.): "Say, where do you get that phenaphthaline, or the ophilonaphthalein, or whatever it is?"
- 10th. Prof. N. has already heard the joke about the baby.
- 11th. The Preps never heard of a pony!
- 14th. "What you cramming that Math. for?"
"Well, this time I'm bound to extinguish myself."
- 15th. E. K.: "Sight is an interpretation by the brain of an image."

Puzzled one: "I don't see where you are."
Prof. M.: "Ich bin hier."
6th. O. H.: "I want some baking powder, cream of tartar, washing soda, and matches."
F. S.: "Say, what do you take this for?—the Domestic Science lab.?"
7th. Prof. K.: "Your flask can't possibly break, and if it does there's no danger, and if it does catch fire, all you have to do is jump aside and throw water at it." (Reassuring).
8th. Prof. T.: "The speakers are in order of rank—the rankest first. That's why I'm first."
11th. Prof. R.: "I don't often pay for text-books; I get copies from the authors."
L. W.: "Well, they don't send me copies, some way."
12th. K. T. makes "a lovely section" of pith.
13th. "They have faculty moustache jokes in the exchanges."
"Well, we've got them too—the moustaches."
14th. "How do you spell squid?" "S-q-i-d?"
15th. "Ich stand am Fenster—I stand on the fence."
18th. Geometry Student: "Oh, Miss S. has got a new hat, and the base is blue and the altitude is green."
19th. "Oh, Miss S. has got the new wing!"
"Where, where? On the dorm.?"
"No, on her hat."
20th. "What are the colors of a copper flame?"
"Blue and green—same as Miss S.'s hat."
21st. "I wonder if I could borrow that hat for St. Patrick's Day?"
22d. (In Domestic Science). "Oh, dear, I've lost that lid!"
"Not Miss S.'s hat!"
25th. (After Self-Government Council). Janitor to Junior: "Who's going to run the University now?"
26th. K. T.: "Isn't that tube funny?"
J. H.: "My sense of humor isn't developed so far as yours, but you might use it for the Dates."
27th. Prep.: "Goethe was a large German."
28th. J. P.: "Why, do you know, it is so cold I set a tub of hot water out to cool, and it froze so quick the ice was hot yet."
29th. Great Agitation: Can the Student Committee go on the "Jolly Jag of Joy."

February

- 1st. Inquirer: "Say, Doc., are chocolates cheaper when you buy them wholesale?"
2d. The ground hog of the Commercial school sees his shadow.
3d. H. H.: "Well, one part H_2O absorbs two parts CO_2 ."
4th. Prof. K.: "It is better to have things where you can find them than to keep them in your head—you might lose that."
5th. "Tell me what time it is, please."
"Now I say, one of the fingers is broken off my watch."
8th. K. T.: "I'm saddest when I sing."
M. S.: "So's everybody else."
12th. W. K.: "I made some bread the other day."
K. T.: "Did you use Domestic Science?"
W. K.: "No; the bread-mixer."

- 15th. The Botany girls dye.
 16th. Student: "I'm making benzene, but all I've got is this little ring around the top of the test-tube."
 Professor: "The benzene ring, eh?"
 17th. Who has the key to Lucy Taylor's dog-chain?
 18th. In other words, who paid L. T.'s license?
 19th. Professor B.: "This is 99.97 per cent pure."
 W. T.: "Better than Ivory soap, isn't it?"
 23d. D. W. What is it, burdock or bird dock?"
 M. S.: "Or Doc Bird?"
 24th. Here's where the prodigal was cheated. (Ag. chem.)
 Fatted calf=14% fat. Half-fatted calf=19% fat.
 25th. Student: "And they've been to Venus—I mean Venice."
 26th. (Ag. Chem.) "The cows can't eat the mangels whole, so they have to cut them." Wise old cows!

March

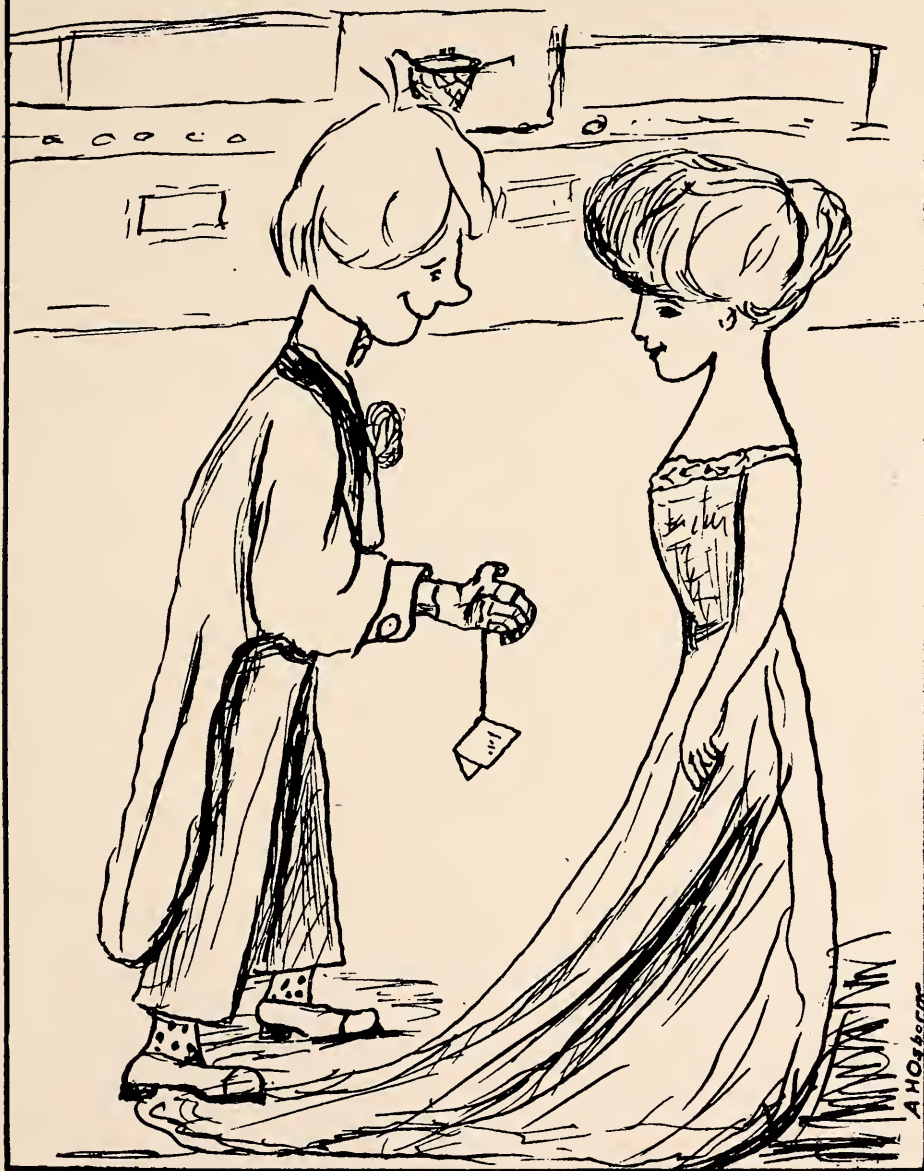

- 1st. Did one of the dorm girls elope?
 2d. Large attendance at Hygiene.
 3d. Senator McCall speaks. The girls decide they always did like Australia better than the Philippines, anyway.
 4th. "Hurrah for Taft! Going to the Inaugural Ball?"
 "No; it's Lent."
 5th. "I didn't take Physiology, because I had Human Anatomy."
 "Why, what other kind could you have?"
 8th. E. R.: "I preFir a Fir."
 D. W.: "Well, any Jim nosperm will do for me."
 9th. L. C.: "Mary E. Wilkins changed her writing so—what was the matter with her, anyway?"
 Dr. Downey: "Why, she got married."
 10th. Senior (to member of Physics III): "Where have you been?"
 "Up at the University, plotting grafts."
 11th. (In Botany) "My drawing isn't full enough."
 "Well, treat it with alcohol, then."
 15th. Chem. II Student: "Oh, yes, I know how to make waterglass—you use glass powder."
 16th. Another fight at the Boarding Club.
 17th. "Many happy returns of the Day, Mr. Smith."
 F. S.: "Oh, she hasn't gone yet."
 18th. Prof. N.: "I know this work could be done by any average student—but then I have never had an average student."
 19th. Mary Wilson (discussing Mandolin Club trip): "I know lots of people in those towns. Oh, yes, I know some women and girls, too."
 22d. Mandolin Club starts off. Mr. F., who has had practice on Institute trips, carries all the suit cases.
 23d. "Bob Guild's got a purple necktie; guess he's in half-mourning."
 "Well, he isn't the only Merry Widower, either."

April

- 1st. Prof. N.: "This is barberry-bush, or, according to Miss W., chaparral."
 M. S.: "Well, we won't take it according to Miss W."
 Prof. N.: "No, that's harder to spell."
 2d. L. C.: "Miss Taylor doesn't have to behave; she isn't a prep."
 4th. (In Botany) A. A.: "It was a nice, sunny day."
 M. S.: "When the potatoes were making starch?"
 5th. Mrs. B.: "How tall you are growing!"
 L. L.: "Oh, do you think so? But I'll have to be three inches taller before I can ask Helen Nelson to the Cadet Ball."

- 6th. "E. M. makes some fine candy. This is no joke, either."
- 7th. Have you heard about the Mills they have at the Boarding Club?
- 8th. "Is it all Wright with Cook?"
"No; he isn't out of the Wood yet."
- 9th. Mr. B.: "Aha! I see two Specks upon the landscape."
- 12th. Prof. N.: "Special assembly today! I suppose Mr. Holt will speak?"
K. T.: "No; it's the 'annual' assembly."
J. H.: "They used to have a weekly assembly."
- 13th. "No, I'm not going to give the 'Wyo' board my picture. I don't want them hauled up for nature-fakers."
- 14th. (Debating Club is being photographed.) Dr. M.: "Now, be good."
"Wouldn't it be better to say, 'Now be good,' Dr. M.?"
- 15th. "I think Harry Hill is a dear, sweet boy." (Oh, sugar!)
- 16th. Mr. Gramm's party. The Prep. dancing school members discuss homologous parts of equal triangles.
- 19th. Prof. M.: "Now get out of that chair and let me have it."
Prof. H.: "No, sir; I've got squatter's claim on this chair."
- 20th. M. K. and J. D.: "We want to see about our prep diplomas."
Prof. M.: "All right, girls, we'll look into your cases."
- 21st. Mary Ben: "I'm the Lady of the Lake."
Stella: "Well, I'm Spencer's Fairy Queen."
- 22d. Prof. R. (in Geology): "The ostrich resembles many of the human family—he has little brains and is a vigorous kicker."
- 23d. "Oh, Tom (Bob, John, George, etc.), Merle (Mary, Vanny, Miriam, etc.), is just crying like everything because you won't go to the picture show tonight."
- 26th. Student (reciting): "I think—I don't know."
Prof. D.: "I think you don't know, too."
- 27th. M. S.: "Lend me your knife."
M. G.: "Use your tongue, it's sharp enough to cut anything."
M. S.: "I don't doubt it, if it cut you."
- 28th. Prof. S. (illustrating): "The girl from Laramie——"
M. D.: "Oh, isn't it 'the chatterer'?"
Prof. S.: "Yes, it's that, too."
- 29th. Dr. H.: "Why can't we have a hot-headed ambassador? Because they'll send him to Siberia, where it's hot?"
- 30th. H. H.: "The Sophomores can do anything they undertake—that's why they chose a tree that is hard to grow."

How the Votes Were Cast.

EVANGELINE DOWNEY.

When University students were informed that the Annual Board was going to hold an election to decide upon many weighty matters, such as the worst Fusser in College, of course excitement ran high.

The one ambition of Mortimer Grant is evidently to be considered handsome, for, from the number of votes he received for that coveted honor, we are justified in presuming that he spent all his time and money in bribing the students.

And Lizzie Crowley was voted to be the handsomest girl, of course, for "she" has all the dainty effeminate mannerisms which make a woman so charming. Harriet Abbot, too, received a great many votes, but hers were mostly from the male portion of the students, while "Lizzie's" were all from the "co-eds."

All the day of the election, Mr. LeCron paced anxiously up and down the hall, conversing with everyone who had time to stop and talk with him. Strangely enough, the girls seemed to have more time that day than the boys did. Electioneering does help—there's no question about it—for when the votes were counted, it was found that Mr. Le Cron was the worst Fusser in the University. Mr. Faville also received some votes, and many of the boys say the only reason these two young men were so highly honored is because they won all the "co-ed" vote by sporting their beautiful red shoes, socks and ties.

And what University girl is the worst talker? At first the votes simply poured in for Trace Foster, but when the students began to think the matter over calmly, they remembered that Trace has only been here about ten months to tell all she knows, while Mary Ben has been here ten years, and yet she still manages to talk almost as fast and say almost as much as Trace does. So of course many decided to vote for Mary Ben, and she soon piled up a big majority. Miriam Corthell also received some votes, but this was due to the fact that "Jeff," with tears in his eyes, begged the Boarding House boys "to vote Miriam something, even if it were only the worst talker."

The contest for worst Knocker was very uninteresting, for the vote was almost unanimous that Lynn Simpson alone could claim that honor.

If the ballots in this election express the real feeling of the students, there is no doubt but that Laura Breisch is the most popular professor. Even the students who had been in her classes for three or four years still voted in her favor.

Mary Scott received the most votes as the most brilliant member of the Junior and Senior Classes, though everyone in the classes received a number of votes. Wallace Taylor was considered the member most likely to become famous.

The race for the most popular man in College shows very clearly the sterling worth of the University young men, for not one yielded to the temptation to vote for himself. Some of the girls, like Merle Kissick, Wilburta Knight and Gladys Corthell, voted for their other selves, but almost everyone else was of the same opinion—that President Merica is the most popular man in College.

The members of the Boarding Club will be glad to hear that their own Mr. Drinkhall has been voted the worst joker in College, and he himself will be glad of the opportunity to let his friends in England know that his talents are appreciated.

In balloting on the question as to which girl in the Junior and Senior Classes is to be married first, one young man said, "——— will be if she does as I want her to." We will mention no names, for you all know who was referred to. With the exception of the young man just mentioned, however, everyone seemed to think that Leslie Bailey would obtain this honor.

As to the best thing in College there was considerable difference of opinion. The Alpha Omega Sorority received the largest number of votes, though Girls, Dinner Time at the Men's Commons, President Merica, My Girl, Lovers' Lane and the University Back Steps all received votes. In the matter of the worst thing it seemed "too easy" to decide upon "drill."

Closely allied to the worst thing is the worst case. Sutphin and Co. finally won out in this, but they need not feel too much elated, for Tom and Merle, the Knight Carr and the Glad Speck were not far behind.

From the "Wyo" Mail Box.

To the Editor:

Kindly scan the following. If you do not like it, it will not surprise me, for I do not adore it myself. Should you be unable to use it, throw it away, or give it to Laura Breisch for the "Student." She, I understand, is delighted to get anything.

When the girls returned from the Mandolin Club trip, all the small brothers were anxious to hear a connected account, although they later declared it was "a fright to hear those girls talk." George Abbot, in particular, had great difficulty in obtaining the facts in chronological order. Finally, in desperation, he remarked: "O Harriet, go back to Riverton. You keep going to Casper every time you start. George Wheeler wasn't the only interesting thing you saw on the trip, and, besides, we all know him."

Girl I: "It was the funniest thing I ever heard; did you hear it?"

Girl II: "No; what was it?"

Girl I: "Some girl called up the President's office the other day and Dr. Merica answered the phone. She said, 'Is this you, Jimmie?'"

Girl II: "What did the President say; wasn't he shocked?"

Girl I: "Shocked! I reckon it was the girl who was shocked when the President said, 'No; this is Charlie.'"

Just as the "Wyo" goes to press we find the faculty loitering around the steps at four o'clock. Can nothing be done to improve the discipline among our instructors?

One of the professors remarks that between Mr. Brawley's smoke and his flame, he has no time for studying.

Something must be done about the slang used by the faculty. Why, the other day one of the girls used a slang word, and he told her to "cut that out."

Prof. Bellis is truly a remarkable man. He gets up every morning in time for breakfast!

Laura Breisch was heard some time ago conversing with one of the professors upon her coming graduation.

"Professor," she said, "I am indebted to you for all I know."

"Pray don't mention such a trifle," was the startling reply.

SO ENDETH THE FIRST "WYO."
